² The final bill includes $300 million in emergency spending for the Bureau of Prisons to continue COVID-19 response work. It also includes language prohibiting the federal government from interfering with states' marijuana legalization laws. Further, the bill includes $5 million "for the development and deployment of a database to track excessive use of force and officer misconduct, as required by section 3 of Executive Order 13929 (June 16, 2020). In developing these databases, the Department is directed to consult with State and local law enforcement agencies, community organizations, and advocacy groups, including those that advocate for the preservation of civil liberties and civil rights." Further, the Attorney General is directed to establish a Task Force on Law Enforcement Oversight, to be comprised of representatives from (1) the Civil Rights Division, (2) the Office of Justice Programs, (3) the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS), (4) the Federal Bureau of Investigation, (5) the Community Relations Service, and (6) the Office of Tribal Justice. The Task Force shall consult with professional law enforcement associations, labor organizations, and community-based organizations to coordinate the process of the detection and referral of complaints regarding incidents of alleged law enforcement misconduct. The bill provides $5 million for the task force. Further, the "agreement supports DOJ's effort to develop and implement consistent accreditation standards for Federal, State, and local law enforcement. Consistent standards, informed by broadly applicable model guidelines and best practices, can ensure community accountability and promote policing with a guardian mentality. In lieu of the House report language, the Attorney General is directed to take the lead in these efforts, and, in consultation with law enforcement accreditation organizations, recommend broadly applicable model guidelines and best practices for accreditation standards. The recommendations should be based on an analysis of existing accreditation standards and methodology developed by law enforcement accreditation organizations nationwide, including national, State, regional, and Tribal accreditation organizations."

³ The final FY22 omnibus appropriations bill included the full reauthorization of the Violence Against Women Act.

⁴ The bill continues a temporary designation of fentanyl as a controlled substance until December 31, 2022.

⁵ In lieu of House report language, the Joint Explanatory Statement "reminds the Attorney General that the joint explanatory statement accompanying Public Law 116-260 directed the Department to provide up to $5 million for the establishment and operation of a Task Force on Law Enforcement Oversight, and section 222 of that Act appropriated $5 million for the development and operation of a database concerning substantiated instances of excessive use of force and officer misconduct. The Attorney General shall implement these efforts."

⁶ The Joint Explanatory Statement said that within the funding provided, the Civil Rights Division shall enhance efforts to investigate and address violations of the Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons Act (Public Law 96-247) in State and local prisons and jails. Also, the Department is directed to brief the Congress "on current policies and practices that ensure that any DOJ agency that enters into a contract or agreement with a nongovernmental organization, or a State or local government entity for the purpose of incarcerating or detaining Federal prisoners or detainees in non-Federal facilities has access to all relevant information related to such incarceration, detention, treatment or condition, to include costs, expenditures, or other performance data. The briefing should cover any factors that limit access to such information or affect the feasibility of gathering or accessing such information."

⁷ The Joint Explanatory Statement says that "The Department's grant-making offices are urged to support initiatives and technical systems that promote statewide and national data-sharing among court systems, correctional facilities, and law enforcement agencies. Such support may be provided through the Department's discretionary grant funds and through efforts to promote the use of Byrne-JAG funds for these purposes."

⁸ The Joint Explanatory Statement says "The Department of Justice is expected to exercise leadership in law enforcement across the Federal government. Accordingly, in lieu of language in the House Report, the agreement directs the Attorney General to continue ensuring implementation of evidence-based training programs on de-escalation, the use-of-force, and the protection of civil rights that are broadly applicable and scalable to all Federal law enforcement agencies. Such programs should be developed in consultation with the DOJ law enforcement components, the Office of Justice Programs, the Community Oriented Policing Services Office, and the Civil Rights Division, with consideration given to establishing consistent standards and curricula. The Attorney General is further directed to continue consulting with the heads of each Federal law enforcement agency in furtherance of the adoption of these programs."

¹⁰ The final bill includes a total of $123.9 million in carve-outs, leaving $360.1 million for the Byrne JAG formula grants. The explanatory statement notes that the Department "has been directed to collect data on officer training each subsequent year as part of both the Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grants (Byrne JAG) and COPS Hiring application processes, including the number and rank of officers trained, as well as the type of training, including use of force, de-escalation, racial and ethnic bias, and community engagement. This data was directed to be provided to BJS in order to begin a data set on officer training. The public report and publication of a data set, required by Public Law 116-93, is overdue, and the Department is directed to release it immediately." Further the Explanatory Statement says, "In lieu of House report language regarding law enforcement training, the agreement recognizes that training with regard to use of force, racial profiling, implicit bias, procedural justice, efforts to gain accreditation, development of uniform standards, implementation of innovative law enforcement and non-law enforcement strategies, and the establishment of crisis intervention teams can be among the permissible uses of Byrne JAG funding."

¹¹ The Joint Explanatory Statement says that the Department is expected to ensure State, local, and Tribal governments use Byrne JAG awards to target funding to programs and activities that conform with evidence-based strategic plans developed through broad stakeholder involvement, as required by law. The Department is directed to continue to make technical assistance available to State, local, and Tribal governments for the development and update of such plans, for the planning and implementation of promising practices funded with Byrne-JAG, and for meeting the obligations established by the Sixth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. The Department should continue funding this technical assistance at the level authorized in Public Law 114-324 (the Justice for All Act).

¹² The Joint Explanatory Statement says that “novel equipment and technologies” can improve public safety and public trust in criminal justice institutions. OJP is urged to promote awareness that Byrne-JAG funds may be used for managed access systems and other cell phone mitigation technologies; fentanyl and methamphetamine detection equipment, including handheld instruments; opioid overdose reversal agents; virtual reality de-escalation training; humane remote restraint devices that enable law enforcement to restrain an uncooperative subject without requiring the infliction of pain; and gunfire detection technology. The agreement reiterates language in the House report on other allowable uses of Byrne-JAG funds. Also, the Joint Explanatory Statement directs the AG to prioritize resources to enforce the civil provisions of Federal laws that protect the right to vote. Separately DOJ issued a memo noting that Byrne JAG can be used to protect polling places and workers.

¹⁴ The explanatory statement directs DOJ to prioritize applications for the development of real-time crime centers in communities with high rates of violent and gun crime.

¹⁵ The final bill includes $7.5 million for a competitive grant program to state and local law enforcement and correctional entities to educate, train, and prepare officers so that they are equipped to appropriately interact with mentally ill or disabled individuals in the course of completing their job responsibilities. “This training should be developed in conjunction with healthcare professionals to provide crisis intervention training focused on understanding mental and behavioral health, developing empathy, navigating community resources, de-escalation skills, and practical application training for all first responders. OJP is expected to track the results of this grant program in order to better establish best practices for law enforcement agencies.”

¹⁶ This funding is for a competitive grant program to provide awards to State and local law enforcement and correctional facilities to educate, train, and prepare officers so that they are equipped to appropriately interact with mentally ill or disabled individuals in the course of completing their job responsibilities. This training should be developed in conjunction with healthcare professionals to provide crisis intervention training, which shall focus on understanding mental and behavioral health, developing empathy, navigating community resources, de-escalation skills, and practical application training for all first responders. OJP is directed to track the results of this grant program to better establish best practices for law enforcement agencies. Law enforcement agencies are encouraged to improve officer response through innovative technologies, including the us telemedicine-capable devices, to connect individuals directly with mental or behavioral health experts.

¹⁹ In the final bill, this is a carve-out from the Byrne JAG program.

²⁰ According to the Explanatory Statement, the Community-Based Violence Prevention (CBVP) program supports evidence-based and data-driven intervention, prevention, and deterrence focused initiatives that aim to reduce violence, focused on areas that are disproportionately impacted by violent crime including areas experiencing high rates of illegal firearms arrests and homicides. Projects are to be competitively awarded and require close collaboration among law enforcement, service providers, and community-based organizations. Projects shall employ community-based strategies including conflict mediation, street outreach, GVI, and hospital-based violence intervention programs associated with homicide reductions.

²³ This is a pilot program that partners with the appropriate State office or entity, such as the Department of Mental Health or Department of Corrections, to establish a collaborative anti-recidivism effort focused on the therapeutic educational, vocational, evidence-based cognitive-behavioral, and mental health needs of inmates upon intake or arrest through their probationary or parole period that will provide a continuum of programming focused on recidivism reduction as well as the mental health and wellness, and, if needed, long-term assistance with mental health needs.
